

The government is getting too involved with our personal lives. We should have a choice in who can call/solicit in our homes.